Our new dataset has been partially downloaded and some pre-processing has been done on that portion. There is not enough space on the machine for the entire dataset which is limiting our capabilities in training slightly.

Work Completed Last Week

Pre-processing on the dataset.

Work Planned for Next Week

We have created a Trello board of current goals and are each assigning ourselves tasks to work on. We have now switched to a more agile approach to focus on various features to get functioning independently.

Open Issues

Improving tracking in our dataset because there are gaps in frames where the bounding box disappears.
